Art/Design:

A series I am currently working on, the "Quarantine Collages", reflect the very surreal atmosphere we are living in. We are cut off from each other, our families, our communities, and our usual energy. There is a sense of dislocation, a concept in much of my sculpture and installation.

The color serves as mood and a play of drama; and also moments of joy. There are illusions of space, with the background and foreground interacting to reinforce that sense of the surreal, of not knowing where we are. The color choices also add to the sense of visual movement. I use linear forms as they relate to a kind of architecture and formality, and creates a distortion of perspective extending in the distance as well as bars that keep us in.

As a living action, I have begun printing these images on fabric, on a larger scale, and using them to create handmade pillows, tablecloths, placemats, and bedspreads. Any image of any of the collages, or for that matter, any of my map drawings, can be printed for tablecloths small 30" x 40" or large 42" x 70", pillows, any size, and can also do bedspreads, curtains, or other items. All textiles are washable in cold water and air dry.

The client chooses the design image, and the item and measurements wanted, and I can provide a gorgeous, very unique, artist-made item in 4-6 weeks. Client pays for shipping or it can be folded into final price.

The collages themselves are for sale, as well as the domestic items. I will also take orders for large scale commissions, create client-specific design and sizes, and the price will reflect those.
