“Quarantine Collages” Series, 2020, 2021

A body of artwork I am currently engaged in, the "Quarantine Collages", reflect the very surreal atmosphere we are living in. We are cut off from each other, our families, our usual energy; there is a sense of dislocation, a concept in much of my sculpture and drawings.

The color serves as mood and a play of drama; there are illusions of space, with the background and foreground interacting to reinforce that sense of the surreal, of not knowing where we are. I use linear forms as they relate to a kind of architecture and formality, and create a perspective projecting into space as well as boundaries that keep us in.

The collages are a response to my reflections of life now as well as expand ideas and forms used in my studio practice.

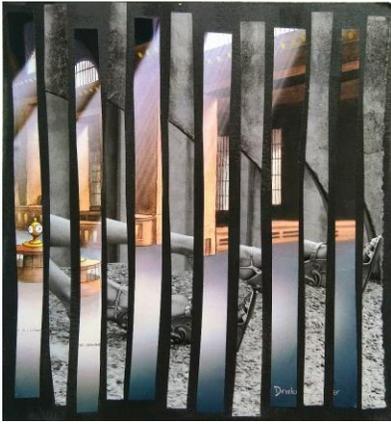

All Quarantine Collages for sale as artwork, and available for commission, with specs according to client's needs as per color, thematic, location, etc., to accommodate large-scale pieces for commercial, residential, and other public spaces, reproductions, design for interior designers, architects and art consultants. Perfect for Real Estate staging as well as for film locations. Applications include printing for textiles, tablecloths, bedspreads, pillow cases, placemats, and ceramic tiles. Can be printed any size on metal, wood panels, glass, mylar, vellum, and paper, for large scale prints. Please contact me directly to work together. Prices reflect client specifications as to design, materials, size.
